TRIP TO SOUTH POLE NO PICNIC

Still, at Times, Weather Was Not Very Severe.

AMUNDSEN TALKS A LITTLE

Tells Public, Through London Chronicle, that He Succeeded Because He Found Easier Mountain Pass Than Shackleton Did.

London, March 12.—The Chronicle prints further statements from Captain Roald Amundsen, who still lingers at Hobart in Tasmania.

According to cables the captain invites any one who wishes to do so to partake of his hospitality at the Bay of Whales, where he left fuel and food and a stove to cook the latter with. He further says that he will be glad for all who care to do so to regale themselves with dog meat at his expense at his depot No. 82. He adds that some of his deserting dogs were never recovered.

Proceeding, Amundsen in an interview gives in detail his views of the superiority of dogs over ponies for polar work. The dogs he preferred because of the better ability to cross ice bridges as they were so much lighter than the ponies. During his entire trip he lost but two dogs by falling into crevasses.

Amundsen said that he took many film photographs at the pole. He thought that Shackleton was mistaken in supposing that the plateau which he had named for King Haakon of Norway was the same that the English explorer had called after King Edward VII. of England. He gave a number of reasons which were apparently sound. Along this line he said that he thought his success was chiefly due to the fact that he had been fortunate enough to find an easier pass through the mountains than the one which Shackleton followed. He intimated that his winter camp might soon be made the base for a geographical exploring expedition. In the meantime he thought that perhaps the Japanese polar expedition might have made use of it.

The Chronicle has also interviewed Lieutenant Prestrude and the others of the party which explored King Edward's and. They did not say much of interest, but they were unanimous in their praise of Amundsen for his energy, foresight and ability. Their view of the explorer was confirmed by his four companions who went with him to the pole.

They said that they did not find it very cold. In fact at times they were able to go without their furs. All had experienced severer weather, so far as the temperature was concerned, at Christiania. Nevertheless they admitted that the trip was not a picnic. They also declared that without Amundsen and plenty of dogs the pole would never have been reached.

ELABORATE PLANS BEING MADE TO PRESENT UNUSUAL ENTERTAINMENT.

Elaborate plans are being made by the Knights of Pythias for one of the best minstrel shows ever put on in this city. Every effort is being made to make this one of the biggest events of the season. The chorus under the direction of Dan Ellsworth now numbers 60 male voices. The orchestra under the leadership of Louis Kilian numbers 15 members. The music is new and catchy and the original stunts are particularly clever.

The first part will consist of music and dancing by black face comedians the costuming for whom no expense has been spared. In the second part a number of entirely new features will be introduced consisting of a one ring circus, Alexander's "Rag Time" Military Band, a most daring aerial act and many other original and novel features.

The show will be presented at the Ypsilanti Opera House, March 27.

NORMAL STUDENT IS CALLED HOME BY DEATH OF MOTHER

Miss Elizabeth Heckathorn of Kenton, Ohio, a student at the Normal College, was called to her home Sunday by the death of her mother. JAMES HAGGARTY, AGED RESIDENT, DIED MONDAY

James Haggarty, one of the oldest residents of Ypsilanti, passed away at his home, 315 Grove street, Monday. His entire family were about him at the time, with the exception of one of his daughters who had returned to her home after visiting her father for a week or so.

Mr. Haggarty was born in Goshen, Orange county, New York, April 1, 1828. His parents, however, removed to Michigan in 1843, settling at Birmingham. It was in 1852 that Mr. Haggarty came to Ypsilanti and here he has resided continuously since.

In 1853, he married Miss Harriet Fournier. They have had nine children. His wife and five of the children survive him: Mrs. James Herrick, Ypsilanti; Mrs. Warren Day and Mrs. Frank Boyce, Kalamazoo; Chas. S. Haggarty, Beaumont, Texas; and Henry M. Haggarty of Kalamazoo. One sister, Mrs. Ellen Conroy, of Detroit, also survives him.

Mr. Haggarty has bee nill all winter, though confined to his bed but for four weeks. Death came so gently that it seemed just a gradual fading away.

The funeral which will be conducted by Rev. Wm. Gardam, will be held from his late residence at two o'clock on Wednesday, and interment will take place in Highland cemetery. Kindly omit flowers.

FIGURES SHOW MARKED SUCCESS FOR MUNICIPAL GAS PLANT AT DULUTH

(Communication)

Ypsilanti Daily Press:

A communication in your issue of March 1 questions some arguments which I put forward in regard to the success of the Duluth municipal gas plant. I hope that in the near future your paper may present in full the facts regarding the Duluth plant. They constitute a convincing argument for municipal ownership. In twelve years of operation by the city the price of gas for lighting has been reduced from $1.90 to 75c and the price for fuel from $1.00 to 75 or 50 cents, and at the same time it has returned a profit of many thousand dollars to the city.

My present purpose is not a general discussion of the success of the Duluth plant but to answer the points raised by "Taxpayer." Inasmuch as he gives us the exact cost of distribution of gas in Ypsilanti, figures that are known only to the Gas Company, I think I am safe in assuming that the communication comes from the company and speaks for it rather than for the citizens of this city.

A Taxpayer, who I assume is the Gas Company, says that while Duluth showed a profit of $30,916 for 1910, 5% of the entire value of the plant should have been charged off for depreciation. This would have amounted to $38,250 and would have made a net loss of $7334 instead of a profit of $30,916.

In the first place "A Taxpayer" is mistaken in assuming that Duluth does not provide for depreciation. In the 1907 report, the manager states that liberal appropriations are made for depreciation every year, not by setting aside a fixed percentage each year out of earnings as a separate depreciation fund but by making the appropriations directly from earnings to replace such parts as are needed each year. Many of the parts replaced he says are the original parts. He gives illustrations of repairs to parts which makes them double the value of the original cost and closes with the statement, "I firmly believe that with the above practices all depreciations are fully conserved and provided for, and that as a matter of fact the plants are worth far more than is claimed for them in the inventory."

It is true that it is possible under the system of providing for depreciation to make a very large showing of profits for a few years by skimping depreciation but it can not be done long without showing in the profits very large replacements soon become essential and wipe out all profits. Since Duluth bought an old plant and has operated it twelve years with steadily increasing profits, it is evident that depreciation is being properly provided for and it is evident that if the entire plant is being replaced from year to year as it wears out there is no need of saving up an additional fund for replacement.

Then it is difficult to see why 5% is named as the amount necessary for depreciation. The Massachusetts law which is considered very strict fixes 3% as the annual depreciation charge. The Wisconsin Commission after investigating a large number of gas plants fixes 1⅞% as the annual depreciation charge necessary to replace a gas plant as it wears out, provided the usual money in this depreciation fund draws interest at 4% and this depreciation was to be figured in depreciable property only and not on real estate. Professor Williams gives 1% as a fair depreciation charge on the Ann Arbor Water company for 1910. Yet the Gas Company sets 5% as the sum that Duluth must charge off. Will they be willing to charge off an annual depreciation of 5% in fixing a selling price in case the city of Ypsilanti wishes to buy their plant?

"A Taxpayer's" next point is that the cost of distribution in Duluth is 11.7 cents, in Ypsilanti 39.2 cents, a difference of 27½ cents per thousand. "Being due," he says, "to the fact that the Ypsilanti Gas Company maintains a service in the consumer's residence, while in Duluth, as far as I am able to judge by the report, the service stops at the street."

Now the average consumption of gas in Ypsilanti for each service is 27 thousand feet and if there is an additional charge of 27½ cents on each thousand it would make an average annual charge of nearly $7.50 for piping the gas from the street to the house. I have no access to the figures that "A Taxpayer" uses so can not say just where he is mistaken, but he surely does not wish us to believe what he apparently says that we are charged $7.50 a year for the poping from street to house which probably would not cost more than that to put in.

It is also interesting to notice that in the charter proposed by the Gas Company it binds itself to pipe only to the lot line.

Yours truly,

J. STUART LATHERS.

GIVES CLOSE MONOPOLY

Divided Decision of Supreme Court Is Peculiar.

Chief Justice Thinks Holder of Patent Would Have Control of Everything in Use.

Washington, March 12.—The supreme court of the United States handed down a decision giving to the patent laws of the country a construction which, according to the words of Chief Justice White, in a dissenting opinion, would enable the holder of a limited patent to reach out and by contract include within the patent every conceivable thing used in every American household.

The decision upholds the right of patentees to dictate absolutely how their patented articles may be sold by retailers, and declares legal the inventor's "monopoly" in his selling contracts.

It was a divided court ruling, for against this majority view, announced by Justice Lurton, three members of the bench—the chief justice and Justices Hughes and Lamar—dissented.

The case involved alleged infringement in selling supplies for use on a patented rotary mimeograph. A notice on the machine set forth that it was sold on the restriction that it was to be used only with supplies made by the patenting company.

INDIAN BUREAU PROBE

Subcommittee to Investigate Certain Charges that Have Been Made.

Washington, March 12.—An investigation of the affairs of the Indian bureau is about to be undertaken by the house committee on expenditures in the interior department, of which Representative Graham of Illinois is chairman. It is the purpose of the committee to send subcommittees on inquiry to reservations in Arizona, Oklahoma and other states of the west. Special attention will be paid to a charge made against one of the prominent officers of the Indian service. It is to the effect that this official introduced liquor on the Osage reservation, an offense punishable under the law by fine and imprisonment.

The Graham commission is now holding public hearings relative to Indian administration on the White Earth reservation.

STEAMER SINKS IN LAKE

Crew of 33 Is Saved and Reaches Shore at Chicago.

Chicago, March 12. — Thrilling rescues by crib employes and desperate battles with great jagged hummocks of ice marked the hazardous flight across a field of ice of thirty-three members of the crew, including one woman, of the steamer Flora M. Hill, belonging to the Hill steamboat line. The boat began to sink when 500 feet southeast of the two mile crib after it had been "nipped" by heavy field ice.

Ropes, ladders and grappling hooks were pressed into service by the cribkeeper, Captain Carl Jacobson, and his employes in order to save the exhausted crew. All were given shelter at the crib.

SUFFRAGISTS ARE BUSY AT SPECIAL SESSION

Lansing, March 12—(Special)—The legislature was certainly on the qui vive all day Monday, in expectation of the coming messages from the governor. And, they came, thick and fast, last evening about 9:15 o'clock putting the House into a turmoil when bills and resolutions galore, followed quickly all more or less in line with the different messages.

Everybody seems to think work enough is laid out to demand another extra session on the heels of this one. The bills and resolutions covering the various big subjects outlined seemed to make imperative the suspension of House rules for without exception all were ordered printed.

The equal suffrage message, especially, was a surprise to most of the members for it had been pretty generally understood it would not come up again until the next regular session.

Prominent equal suffrage advocates, however, had been busy during Monday and had interviewed the governor apparently to their satisfaction. After the session closed last evening the ladies appeared in force. Today will bring still larger numbers.

The state wide primary bill for all officers will go through the House with a rush. There will be five or six votes gained in the House to submit the equal suffrage amendment to the people, possibly enough to pass the resolution by a two-thirds vote.

Senator Snell of Detroit is reported to be the equal suffrage leader in the Senate.

The bills to deprive big brewery owners from holding money interests in saloons will probably pass the House from the fact that Gov. Osborn puts up the question from the monopolistic side regarding ownership and bond sureties. However the members differ as to regulating this matter. The governor's message was ingeniously put and laid before the legislature for action.

That the House was wrought up to the highest tension is evident from the resolution introduced by Representative Woodworth to invite the "Colonel' to address the legislature Thursday. Amendments to include Taft, Wilson, Bryan, Harmon, LaFollette were tucked on which of course killed the resolution.

This morning at 10:30 o'clock the House takes up the employer's liability bill which will doubtless take the entire day and evening. The interest in this bill is wide-spread.

The presidential primary preference bill was not taken up in the Senate last evening. Whether it will be at 2 o'clock today is not certain. Tremendous pressure has been brought to bear upon the 13. Moriarity is not the only senator who thinks statesmen's ways are thorny.

The recall, the initiative and referendum have received a boost, especially the recall by the action of the 13. The committee on amendments and revision of the Constitution has a meeting at 9 a. m. today. This will be a busy committee for some time as there is more before it than during the entire session last winter.

GOOD SHOW ALL WEEK

The Sherman Stock Co., one of the oldest and best repertoire companies now on the road, opened an engagement of one week at the Opera House, Monday night.

This popular company has been playing at Jackson, Mich., and week before that at Saginaw.

A well filled house greeted the company last night. "The Village Vagabond" proved to be a very laughable play from the time the curtain went up until the final curtain.

The company is well cast and each made a very good showing in their respective parts. Fred Hubbard as Mike Riley was highly amusing.

This company will present for tonight a comedy drama entitled "The Runaway Wife." A play that is new and with something new in the way of a plot. A beautiful story runs throughout the piece and it has many dramatic as well as comedy situations.

Wednesday night is feature night. On this night the company will present Bertha M. Clay's well known novel, "Dora Thorn." This dramatization contains a very good line of wholesome comedy.

ANTHRACITE MEN FRAME A REPLY

Will Be Presented at Conference with Miners Wednesday.

GERMAN AND FRENCH MEN OUT

Bituminous Operators and Miners May Get Together, on Account of Foreign Demand at Increased Prices.

One hundred and seventy-five thousand coal miners walked out in Germany.

Hundreds of thousands struck for a day in France as a demonstration of power.

The strike in Great Britain is only eleven days old, yet already 1,000,000 workers in addition to the strikers have been forced into idleness through fuel shortage.

Coal is being shipped from the United States to supply the markets once filled by England. Food prices abroad are soaring toward famine levels. Governments have tried in vain to avert the disaster.

Wednesday will see the strike situation in this country approach the critical stage. For Europe the crisis is already here.

New York, March 12.—The draft of a detailed reply refusing the demands of the anthracite mine workers, was prepared at a meeting of the committee of ten operators appointed to arrange for this reply, which will be submitted in writing Wednesday at a joint conference between this committee and the conference of the anthracite mine workers.

President Truesdale of the D. L. & W., said after the meeting that the formal reply will not be made public until it is submitted to the conference committee of the mine workers Wednesday. "All we did today," continued Mr. Truesdale, "was to go into each demand and prepare a detailed reply to each, giving our reasons for refusing it."

Large coal dealers who were seen said that anthracite was being shipped to tidewater freely by the operators, but was being bought up as fast, almost, as it came.

It was said that the bituminous operators, whose conferences with the bituminous miners over their demands begin on March 20, are looking with great interest on the progress of the strike in England.

So many ships are being chartered from English ports for Norfolk and other American seaports for cargoes of coal, for which the consignees are willing to pay high prices, that it is said that they may be more ready to settle with the miners than under ordinary circumstances.

Representative Vreeland, McCreery of Pennsylvania, and McKinley of Illinois, will serve on the subcommittee which will make an inquiry and report on the Aldrich banking and currency plan.

STRANGLES RIVAL WITH BELT

Waukegan Slayer Leaves Note Saying He Was Solely to Blame.

Waukegan, Ill., March 12.—Charles George killed Leo Bilbilian, seventeen years old, by buckling a belt tightly about his throat. He then committed suicide by swallowing arsenic.

It is believed that jealousy on the part of the slayer, who feared that the boy was seeking to usurp his place in the affections of Miss Mary Kretz, 3065 Lincoln avenue, Chicago, prompted the deed. George left a note in which he said he alone was to blame.

TARIFF REVISION ABRIDGED

COOPERATION IN CLEAN ADVERTISING.

The cooperation of three parties acting contemporaneously will effect the "Clean Ad" reform campaign promptly. The newspaper publisher, the newspaper reader, and the newspaper advertiser can do it promptly. The newspaper publisher has space to sell. We believe all newspaper publishers would prefer to sell the space to those who will use it in such a way as to justify no adverse criticism from newspaper readers. But most newspaper publishers must sell their space for enough to make the business a success—or fail and go out of business. It is largely in the hands of clean newspaper advertisers to make it possible or impossible for the newspaper publishers to create and maintain a clean atmosphere about their ad. But they must have the cooperation of the newspaper publishers. If his ideals are so sordid that he cares nothing for results so long as he gets the money, the newspaper advertiser still is in position to reach him in another way. Before locating he has a right to inquire about the "neighborhood," and, no matter how attractive the advertising "home" that is offered, the advertiser has a right to decline to buy because he doesn't like the "neighborhood."

We are glad to note that at least one large newspaper advertiser, The Chalmers Motor Company, of Detroit, is taking this kind of a practical interest in promoting a clean space for a clean ad, and those who heard the wholesome sentiments of Hugh Chalmers at the Cleary College Commencement recently will not be surprised to learn of the following statement from Carl M. Green Co., which handles their advertising, to every newspaper publisher with whom they propose to advertise:

"We have been instructed by our clients, the Chalmers Motor Company, to make the following stipulation on all Chalmers advertising in the future:

"'No Chalmers advertising may be inserted unless we are assured that it will not be on the same page with patent medicine and other fake advertising matter.

"'It is understood that in sending all Chalmers orders to you in the future, this stipulation is to be a part of the agreement.'"

And newspaper readers have their share in this wholesome crusade, and it is a very important share. It is in the hands of the newspaper readers to decide what newspapers shall be most largely read. Without newspaper readers and lots of them no newspaper can largely succeed, no matter how high advertising ideals may prevail with either the newspaper publisher or the newspaper advertiser, or both. The newspaper reader can encourage and make possible clean news sheets in his home by patronizing such as are clean.

Fortunately, the progress of the campaign is already such that a choice may be had in many places between the publishers who discriminate and those who do not. Among the Detroit dailies the Times is conspicuously outspoken and will not accept fake medicine nor other fake advertising nor liquor ads. The Toledo Blade takes the same stand. And the Chicago Tribune and Post are credited with the same distinction there.

If you should find in your home some day some agent endeavoring to persuade your children to drink liquor or take some patent nostrum which is likely to start the liquor, opium, morphine or some drug habit, would that agent be welcomed and invited to remain overnight and perhaps longer and further persuade your family to use his wares? Well, hardly! And yet are we not regularly and voluntarily paying the agency of the unscrupulus newspaper to do that very thing, day after day and month after month? The cooperation of all three parties who are responsible for the perpetuation of low advertising ideals is necessary if they are to be promptly elevated to what ought to obtain in the home.

Health And Success

are such intimate relations that no one can be expected to be well acquainted with success who does not keep good hold on health. Most serious sicknesses start in minor troubles of the digestive organs. Thousands know by actual experience that health and strength—and therefore success—

So when we tell you that we have found the eczema remedy and that we stand back of it with the manufacturer's iron clad guarantee, backed by ourselves you can depend upon it that we give our advice not in order to sell a few bottles of medicine to skin sufferers, but because we know how it will help our business if we help our patrons.

We keep in stock and sell, all the well known skin remedies. But we will say this: If you are suffering from any kind of skin trouble, eczema, psoriasis, rash or tetter, we want you to try a full size bottle of D. D. D. Prescription. And, if it does not do the work, this bottle will cost you nothing. You alone to judge.

Again and again we have seen how a few drops of this simple wash applied to the skin, takes away the itch, instantly. And the cures all seem to be permanent.

D. D. D. Prescription made by the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago, is composed of thymol, glycerine, oil of wintergreen and other healing, soothing, cooling ingredients. And if you are just crazy with itch, you will feel soothed and cooled, the itch absolutely washed away the moment you applied this D. D. D.

Memorial for the Inventor of the Gas Range

A NUMBER OF WOMEN IN ONE OF THE LARGE CITIES HAVE SERIOUSLY PROPOSED THE BUILDING OF A HANDSOME MEMORIAL FOR THE INVENTOR OF THE GAS RANGE.

WHETHER OR NOT THE MOVEMENT WILL BE CARRIED TO A SUCCESSFUL CONCLUSION IS UNCERTAIN, BUT THE IDEA IS WORTHY.

THESE WOMEN MADE A STUDY OF INVENTIONS OF THE LAST 100 YEARS WHICH HAD PRODUCED THE MOST BENEFIT TO THEIR SEX.

THEY DECIDED, UNANIMOUSLY, THAT THE GAS RANGE STOOD HIGH IN THE LIST BY REASON OF ITS CLEANLINESS, CONVENIENCE AND LABOR AND TIME SAVING ACHIEVEMENTS.

THE COST OF GAS RANGES AND THE EXPENSE OF OPERATION HAVE BEEN REDUCED STEADILY YEAR BY YEAR, AND NOW ANY WOMAN OF MODERATE CIRCUMSTANCES MAY COOK WITH GAS.

Rules for Talking Weather.

The English are as insensible to their weather as they are to a vast number of other things. They talk of nothing else; but there is yet an artificiality about the conversation that denotes it to be a standardized topic. If genuine feeling and emotion are expressed regarding it by an outsider they become suddenly touchy, and what seemed neutral ground on which differing temperaments could meet with perfect amiability is seen to be no better than a bank of bristling thistles. It is here that the rules of the weather game are seen more clearly. You may talk of it to the exclusion of everything else; you are regarded as difficult if you have an aversion to a certain amount of speech about it, and yet there are certain things you must never say about it, or, if you do, you must say them as though in spite of everything you would not exchange it for any other weather in the world, and you would defend it with your last breath.—Florida Pier in Harper's Weekly.

FIRST APPLICATION DARKENS GRAY HAIR

You don't have to have gray hair or faded hair if you don't want to. Why look old or unattractive? If your hair is gray or faded, you can change it easily, quickly and effectively by using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. Apply a little tonight, and in the morning you will be agreeably surprised at the results from a single application. The gray hairs will be less conspicuous, and after a few more applications will be restored to natural color.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur also quickly removes dandruff, leaves the scalp clean and healthy, and promotes the growth of the hair. It is a clean wholesome dressing which may be used at any time with perfect safety.

Get a fifty cent bottle from your druggist today, and see how quickly it will restore the youthful color and beauty of your hair and forever end the nasty dandruff, hot, itchy scalp and falling hair. All druggists sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if you are not satisfied after fair trial.

In Sox Signo Vinces.

Judge—Jones answered an advertisement and sent a dollar for four pairs of socks. When they arrived, Jones looked them over and then wrote the advertiser:

"Socks received. The patterns are vile. I wouldn't be seen on the street with them on."

Back came the answer:

"What are you kicking about? Didn't we guarantee that you wouldn't wear them out?"

Bigger Profits.

SPRAYING can no longer be considered by the up-to-date farmer or grower as an expense. It is rather an investment. The man who sprays his orchard systematically and with the proper materials is sure to have a larger crop and more perfect fruit than the man who does not spray.

SHERWIN-WILLIAMS LIME-SULFUR SOLUTION

is a universal fungicide and insecticide for destroying San Jose Scale and other sucking insects and mites. As a Fall spray it should be used 10 days after the leaves have dropped, and as a Spring spray it should be applied just before the trees come out of their dormant state. The Spring spraying is effective against the Peach Leaf Curl as well as the scale. The proper use of this solution at the right time will increase the proportion of perfect fruit in your crops many times.

PUBLIC DANGER

You Cannot Afford to Miss Reading This

We believe it is our duty to inform the public that the majority of fatal cases of pneumonia are caused by the patient taking for a cold some so-called cough cure which depends upon poisonous drugs for its effect.

These drugs deaden the nerves and stop secretion along the breathing tract—that causes pneumonia.

Father John's Medicine cures colds and throat and lung troubles without poisonous drugs. It is not a patent medicine, nor cough syrup, but a body builder—an eminent specialist prescribed it for the Rev. Father John O'Brien of Lowell, Mass., fifty years ago.
